MARK JHOSUA TUNGUL
(WEB DEVELOPER)

As a recent graduate with a passion for web development, I bring hands-on experience from part-time freelance work, focusing on website improvement and building new features. I am eager to join a dynamic team where I can enhance my skills, learn new technologies, and collaborate on impactful projects. With a commitment to continuous improvement and creative problem-solving, I aim to deliver meaningful, user-centered solutions while growing as a developer.
